Tasik Divers @ Tasik Ria Resort, Spa & Diving

Want to come face to face with a pin-up?? Last year's Natural History Museum /BBC Wildlife's Photographer of the year runner up was a great picture of the Black Crested Macaque right here in Tankoko National park. We cannot show the actual picture but we can certainly get you up close & personal with these charming residents.

They along with their smaller relatives the Tarsius Spectrum are both to be found in Tankoko, which is just a couple of hours drive North of Tasik Ria. So when you take a break from all the fantastic diving we offer, why not take a trip and trek through primal rainforests in search of a great picture of your own!

We can arrange trips daily, The Tarsius is nocturnal and thus will best be seen around dusk, the Macaques are to be found roaming and can be very inquisitive! All our Tankoko tours are Ranger led and the animals are wild & free ranging, so you might be in for a hike, but its worth it!!

Oh, just some other pictures of the sort of stuff you can see here.
